Duck! Rabbit!

By Tom Lichtenheld

Characters: Left hand person Right hand person

Left: Hey, look! A duck!
Right: That’s not a duck. That’s a rabbit!
Left: Are you kidding me? It’s totally a duck.
Right: It’s for sure a rabbit.
Left: See, there’s his bill.
Right: What are you talking about? Those are ears; silly.
Left: It’s a duck. And he’s about to eat a piece of bread.
Right: It’s a rabbit. And he’s about to eat a carrot.
QUACK
Right: That’s funny. I distinctly heard rabbit sounds.
SNIFF SNIFF
Left: Now the duck is wading through the swamp.
Right: No, the rabbit is hiding in the grass.
Left: There, see? It’s flying!
Right: Flying? It’s hopping!
Left: Look, the duck is so hot; he’s getting a drink.
Right: No, the rabbit is so hot; he’s cooling off his ears.
Left: Here, look at the duck through my binoculars.
Right: Sorry, still a rabbit.

Left: Here, ducky ducky!

Right: Here, you cute little rabbit!

Left: Oh great, you scared him away.

Right: I didn’t scare him away. You scared him away.

Left: You know, maybe you were right. Maybe it was a rabbit.

Right: Thing is, now I’m actually thinking it was a duck.

Left: Well, anyway…now what do you want to do?

Right: I don’t know. What do you want to do?

Right: That’s no anteater. That’s a brachiosaurus!
