How do I get a full-text article if I only have a citation from the internet or from a bibliography?

1. Go to http://www.judsonu.edu/library
2. Click on Find Journals by Title
3. Type the title of the periodical into the search box
4. Click the circle next to Starts with
5. Click the GO button
6. If the periodical title does not come up in the result list, the library does not have access to it in print or electronic formats. Please request the article through interlibrary loan by e-mailing oclcterm@judsonu.edu or by using the interlibrary loan request form on the library’s website.
7. If the periodical title does come up in the result list, click on it
8. A screen will appear that may direct you to databases that have the full-text or it may indicate that the library has the periodical in print format. If the library has the article in print, contact the Research Assistance desk and we’ll verify that we have the issue you need before you come to the library or we’ll scan the article and send it to you via e-mail.
