Architecture courses are sequential. Therefore, students must successfully pass a course with a minimum of a C- to meet the prerequisite of the next course in the sequence. Example: ARC231 must be passed in order to take ARC232, and ARC251 must be passed in order to be eligible to take ARC252, and so on throughout the curriculum.

*Spring Semester of the third year is the designated semester for a study abroad option. General Education courses must be taken in another semester. ARC courses in the spring and summer semester are typically substituted through the Study Abroad program process.

**Elective Options: Students are encouraged to explore elective offerings in different disciplines. If electives are taken in architecture, students are recommended to take studio and representational, art and drawing courses such as: ART212: Painting I, ART223X: Photography I, ART311: Drawing III, ART315: Ceramics I, ART316: Ceramics II, ARC410: Advanced Digital Representation I, ARC442: Advanced Architectural Drawing. Those students who have satisfied all elective requirements may take up to 6 credits of graduate elective as an undergraduate, once they are seniors in credits earned, are in good standing, and with the permission of the Department Chair.

Minors are available to architecture students. Those most commonly pursued by architecture students include: Studio Art, Graphic Design, Business, Worship Arts, Biblical Studies, and Theological Studies. Minors will require additional semesters to complete and are highly encouraged.

NOTE: Group discussion also is almost always taught during a three week summer term.
- D Advanced literature courses include Eminent British Writers, American Literature Since 1865, The Inklings, Hero and anti-Hero, Man and Woman, Prophetic Comedy, Man and Nature; Faith and Doubt, Light in Darkness, Children's Literature or Adolescent Literature.
- E You must complete at least one internship (140 or more hours spent with a professional communication organization) and you may complete two internships as long as they are significantly different experiences. Note: It is highly recommended they you complete your Senior Internship during the summer term.
- F Senior Research Project should be completed during either the fall or spring of your last year.
- G Communication Arts Conference: You must participate in the Communication Arts Conference each semester, but you get 1 credit in your last semester at Judson.
- H Most students find it beneficial to take Internship and/or Group Discussion and/or a lab science in a summer term. This allows them to take several extra electives during the four years.
- I Communications Workshop is a contribution of service learning to the college community or an appropriate not-for-profit community organization. You must have at least two semester of these pass/fail half-credit courses, but we recommended you contribute almost every semester.
